1	anonymous	Happy with the content as outlined . I am happy for my child to be taught to respect different feeling and sexuality. I don't want these options to be pushed or encouraged as a lifestyle choice at this early age as feel it's too young to understand in full .

14. If you would prefer a personal response to the comments written in Q13, rather than a whole school response when sharing the results of this consultation, please add your name and your child's name below. (0 point)
